*"While comfort and quality
must be calculated,
style is the result of inspiration.
For me this is the starting point.
First and foremost, good design
must please the senses."
— John Hutton —*

“CHAIRS!”

John Hutton's sense of scale and proportion redefined 20th century transitional design. Celebrated around the world as the pre-eminent American designer of his generation; his dedication to comfort and quality raised the bar of the entire industry. Continuing the legacy of John Hutton, Joe Doyle has been design directing these brands for over a decade. A clear heir to the Hutton aesthetic but with his own perspective, Doyle's design formula is simple: "Make it interesting, make it smart, and never forget what it is for." Another design contributor is Hutton's niece Jennifer. Jennifer Hutton is an acclaimed product and interior designer and her carefully engineered products are available in luxury showrooms all over the world. Hutton Collections has proven itself to be a valued resource to the design community for providing the highest quality designs and manufacturing available from around the world.

A SHARED HISTORY

In the 1920's Pierre Counot used his engineering background and University contacts to open the factory now known as Counot-Blandin. From his first series of furniture frames Pierre was working with some of the most important designers and projects of the time including Emile-Jacques Ruhlman, Andre Arbus, and Jean-Marie Rothschild for the SS Normandie.

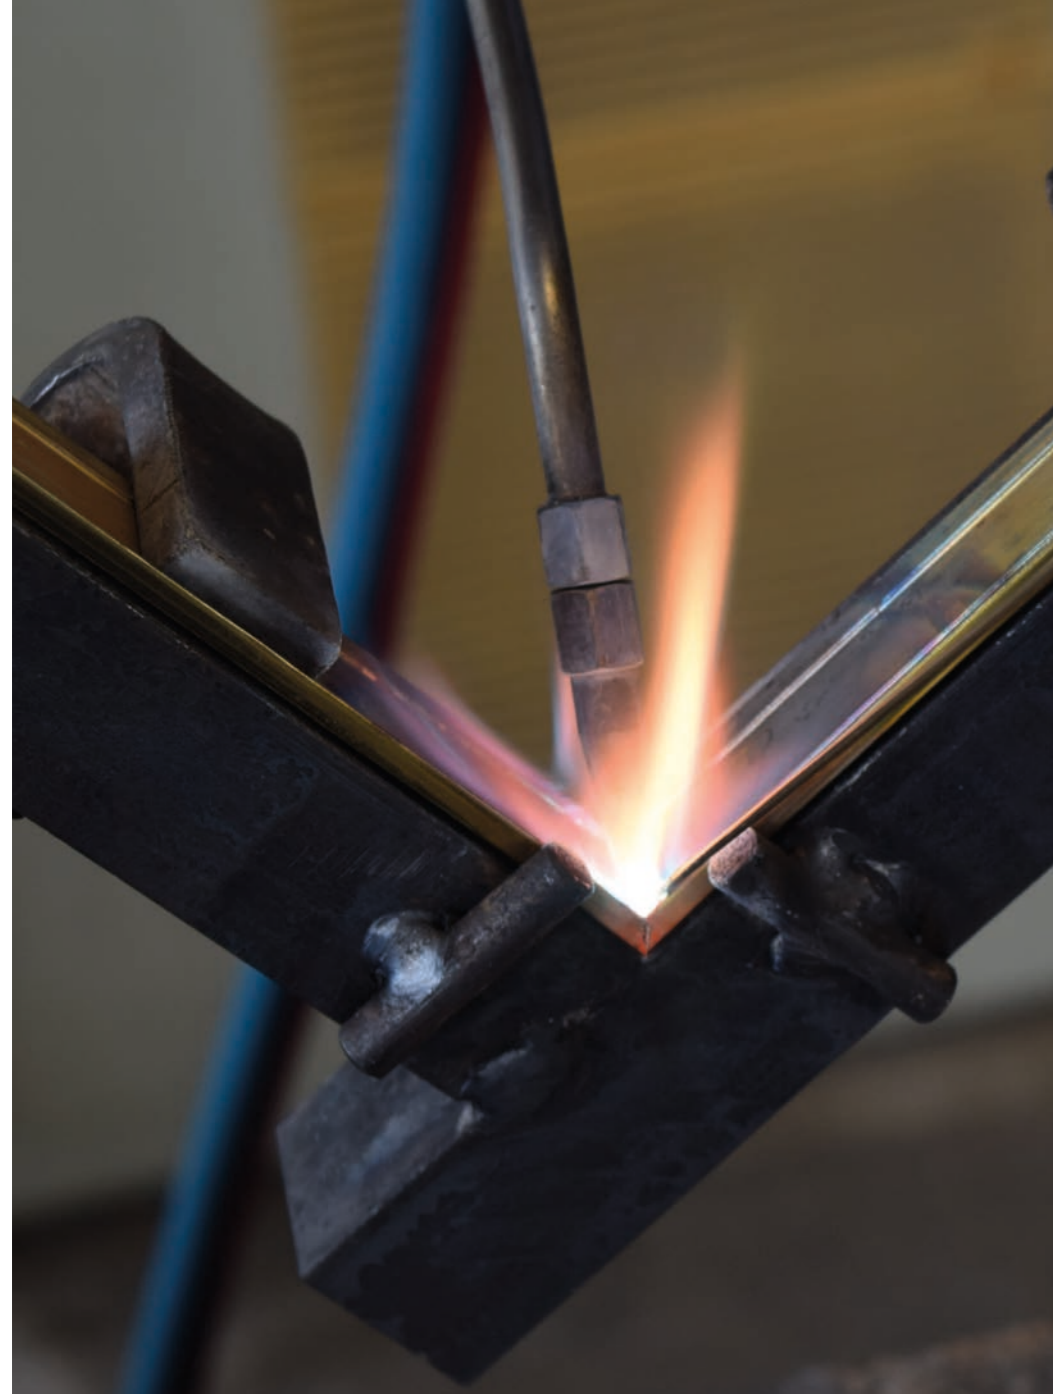

In 1993 Pierre's grandson Gaetan D'Hotel started working at the factory as an apprentice. By 1995 Gaetan was traveling across the globe visiting client's of Counot-Blandin and expanding the small factories international reach and by 2000 he was running the factory.

In 1995 American design icon, John Hutton, came to Europe looking for manufacturers capable of creating the esteemed designs he created in the United States. When he found Counot Blandin and Pierre's grandson, Gaetan D'Hotel, his destiny was changed immediately. Within a few years John Hutton was living in France designing his own signature collections. His son and partner, Douglas Hutton, also moved to France to manage Hutton's Collection Pierre, Ensemble London and PiiArt.

The collections outgrew their European markets and in 2006 Douglas returned to the United States to open Hutton Collections, a distribution company tasked with introducing all of the John Hutton European collections to interior designers around the world. As of 2013 Hutton Collections is now partner/owner of Pierre Counot Blandin.

LOCATION, LOCATION, LOCATION

Liffol-Le-Grand, home to Pierre Counot Blandin, has been awarded the prestigious Indication Géographique. The IG is given to select businesses in specific regions in France that specialize in the highest quality of regionally specific products and practices. The IG stamp is a guarantee to clients that their products are made by 13 designated specialists during each of the 23 stages of production, and that it all took place in the region of Liffol. Wood must come from sustainable forests (certified PEFC or FSC). Materials must not contain Chlorofluorocarbons (CFC's).

Liffol le Grand was a natural choice for manufacturers in the 17th century because of its lush forests. In that same period the menuisiers and wood sculptor's of Liffol quickly became the premiere resource for furnishings for the ebeniste's or Paris' Faubourg Saint Antoine region of Paris.

To date, Pierre Counot Blandin is the only manufacturer to be awarded the prestigious IG label "Siège de Liffol".

ALL EYES ON VERSAILLES

Versailles was the Hollywood of the 18th century. Collection Pierre is a youthful concept born from the creative spirit of a world with a new beginning. It takes the good, fun, excitement and intelligence learned from a lifelong study of 18th century French society and rolls them into a fresh stylish and hip young collection of luxury furnishings faithful to the rhythms of the age. This is where and when fashion enters the home, intelligently.

COLLECTION

ROOM JEWELRY

While traipsing through the European continent John Hutton was invited to the studio of famed artist, Pii, in the small city of Tegelen, located in the southern Netherlands. John became instantly enamored with this mysterious alchemist. John recognized Pii's aesthetic as a successful mix of contemporary design that drew from classical and natural themes, similar to John's own design sensibility. John and Pii began what would become an lifelong collaboration creating the PiiArt Collection. Pii's intense attention to detail results in a level of quality rarely seen in any system of manufacturing.

ALL DRESSED UP

John Hutton Textiles was founded by internationally acclaimed designer John Hutton and his friends and industry icons David and Ann Sutherland. JHT has grown to be a tightly curated collection of client favorites focusing on thick luxurious signature weaves, youthful but sophisticated metallics, and sturdy pattern staples. In a market flooded with woven down imitations of luxury, John Hutton Textiles reflects a clear understanding of our client's needs. Using a John Hutton Textile for upholstery insures a sense of security in the end product's quality. Even the most beautiful textile is only as good as its performance on your furniture.
